DEBT RECEDES; LIBERTY LOAN NOT NECESSARY

Glass Says Congress Can Avert It.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—[Special.]—If congress does not enter upon new fields of large expenditure or new taxes, Secretary of the Treasury Charles Glass announced today, the government will be able to meet its obligations without calling upon the country to bear another Liberty loan.

The secretary of the treasury prefaced this statement with an array of figures showing a reduction of $759,000,000 in the gross debt of the country from Aug. 31 and correspondingly large reductions in the floating debt on loan certificates and unmaturing treasury certificates of indebtedness.

He said that the government's gross debt on Aug. 31, 1919, was $28,596,701,648. On Dec. 31 it amounted to $25,537,076,000, a reduction of $3,059,625,648.

In floating debt (unmaturing treasury certificates of indebtedness) on Aug. 31 it was $4,361,139,050. On Dec. 31 it amounted to $3,578,485,500, a reduction of $782,653,550.

Reducing the Floating Debt.

The portion of the floating debt relating to the refunded (so-called loan) certificates on Aug. 31 amounted to $2,000,000,000. On Dec. 31 it amounted to $1,500,000,000, a reduction of $500,000,000.

The loan certificates outstanding on Dec. 31 were of issues maturing Jan. 1, 1920, Feb. 1, 1920, and Feb. 1, 1920, and will be paid from cash on hand and from the proceeds of the sale of tax certificates thereafter issued, thus commencing the treasury plan for financing the unfunded portion of the war debt in such a way as to avoid any large funding operation.

As to the future, he may be stated that unless congress should enter upon new fields of large expenditure or included in the treasury's estimates should make a reduction in the amount of taxes, in addition to the reduction made a year ago upon the recommendation of Secretary McAdoo of about $6,000,000,000 to about $4,000,000,000, we may look forward to the retirement of the floating debt out of the taxes provided by law and miscellaneous revenue coming within the general head of war salvage (although further issue of tax certificates in diminishing amounts will be necessary from time to time for the intervals between income tax and gradual reduction of the war debt through the operations of the Liberty loan fund purchase fund and sinking fund already created by the act of March 4, 1917.

On the other hand, should congress upon new fields of large expenditure or further reduce taxes it will have already indicated, he clearly pointed out the country to finance the resulting deficit by the issue of a Liberty loan.

MISS MABEL TALIAFERRO WED FOR THIRD TIME

MABEL TALIAFERRO.

Stamford, Conn., Jan. 11.—[Special.]—Miss Mabel Taliaferro, the actress, was married in Darien this afternoon to Capt. Joseph P. O'Brien of Orange, N. J. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace John H. Selbeck at his house. The couple came from New York by train. They were alone.

Both declined to talk to a reporter and seemed surprised that the news of the impending nuptials got out.

The bride lived in Darien last summer. She recently purchased a farm in Stamford.

Miss Taliaferro was first married to Fred W. Thompson, the promoter of Luna park and other enterprises, in 1906. She divorced him Feb. 22, 1912, and June 1, 1913, married Tom Carrigan, her leading man. May 12, 1919, they, too, were divorced.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

TAORMINA, Sicily, Jan. 11.—Herbert Brenon, the American motion picture producer, is reported to have disappeared four days ago while taking scenes with an Italian company. It is said he left for a walk during a luncheon rest on Mount Etna and did not return. Great anxiety is felt for him on account of the snow on the precipitous cliffs and because of the revival of brigandage since the war.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 11.—The Rev. A. L. Shelton, for twenty years a missionary in China and Tibet, representing the Foreign Christian Missionary society, Cincinnati, was captured Jan. 3 by brigands near Batong, Tibet, and being held for ransom. This information has reached the Cincinnati society through the state department at Washington, which has demanded immediate action.

THE HAGUE, Saturday, Jan. 10.—Five hundred Germans deported from Brazil have arrived at Rotterdam from Santos aboard the steamer Avare.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

Announces a Reduction in Price to the Newsboys of Chicago.

To assist the newsboys of Chicago to meet the increased cost of food, clothing and living essentials, The Chicago Tribune announces that, effective Monday, January 12th, the price of The Chicago Daily Tribune to newsboys in Chicago will be reduced to $1.20 per one hundred copies.

The Tribune takes this action after careful consideration of the problem confronting the newsboy. It realizes that the Chicago newsboy can increase his income only in one of two ways. Either he must buy his papers more cheaply or sell to the public at three cents.

In the face of increased expense of print, paper, labor, and every element of its product, The Tribune is unwilling to impose upon the public a higher rate at a time when every effort should be made to stop the vicious circle of rising costs. Consequently, in answering the problem, The Tribune has decided to reduce the wholesale price of The Daily Tribune to newsboys, newsmen and carriers in the City of Chicago.

The Price of the Daily Tribune in Chicago Remains at 2 Cents

It is officially stated that all the newsboys have been ordered to accept the new price by March 1.

WHEREIN THIS TRIANGLE GROWS TO QUADRANGLE

Odor Bombs Now in Braune-Parr Case.

There are so many things to chronicle about this Braune-Parr-Braune-Cuniff mixup that it were best, perhaps, to give a synopsis before serving up the latest installment. Therefore we have—

What Has Already Happened.

Dr. F. H. Braune, 3611 Wilton avenue, finds his wife with E. J. Parr, 1617 Rice street, in the Braune home. He drives her into the cold, cruel world and files suit for divorce. Mrs. Braune retaliates by crying "Frame-up!" and naming Mrs. J. Cuniff, 1444 North Clark street. Dr. Braune swears out a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Cuniff's husband, charging Cuniff fired a shot at him and then maimed his head. Now pickup.

The Latest Installment.

Mrs. Braune and Mrs. Cuniff, it is said, went to see Chief Garrity on Saturday, and asked protection, saying they, too, feared they might be harmed. Then Mrs. Braune said she had some information—that in Cuniff's home could be found nitroglycerin and dynamite.

Lieut. John Loftus and Detectives Johnson and Gilbert went to the Cuniff home yesterday, and found, not dynamite, but two stink bombs and a gallon glass jar containing liquid for the making of such bombs.

"These are what they've been throwing in movie houses where the operators are not union men," said Loftus. "What business is this Cuniff in, I wonder?"

Cuniff is business agent of the moving picture operators' union. And here, with a loud cry, the author quits the story. "It will be continued in the next."

WINE CAR GETS HOT BOX; ELBURN GETS HEADACHE

The hump on the prohibition camel's back was broken last Friday night when the people of the village of Elburn, forty miles west of Chicago on the Northwestern railroad, discovered that a tank car which had been sidetracked near the town contained 7,500 gallons of California port wine.

The train crew had left it there after the car had developed a "hot box" in a few hours hundreds of villagers and farmers from miles around were there with pails, wash boilers, and pitchforks, which were filled by a man who bailed 300 gallons of the wine out of a hole in the top of the car.

Elburn celebrated. The streets of the village for two days were like those of Heaven.

The railroad company discovered the loss and immediately sent four detectives to the town. The news soon spread that Elburn homes would be searched by revenue men.

When the detectives woke up yesterday 800 gallons of the wine had been returned to the railroad station. The wine car was bound for Scranton, Pa., where it was to be used for medicinal purposes.

The other 500 gallons? You win.

MACLAY HOYNE'S SON DRIVES HOGS

Thomas MacLay Hoyne, son of State Attorney MacLay Hoyne, is driving hogs at the stock yards.

Last Tuesday a number of hog drivers went on strike and Hoyne and a number of other men employed at the yards took their places.

"Sure I am driving hogs; some one has to do it, so I am on the job until the men come back," young Mr. Hoyne said at his home last night.

Big Slump in Crime Follows Raids.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—[Special.]—The invention of a new type of multiple charge high efficiency rocket that will penetrate the 200 miles of the earth's atmosphere and possibly shoot to the moon was announced today by the Smithsonian Institution.

The invention is the work of Prof. Robert H. Goddard of Clark College.

The highest level so far reached by scientists with recording instruments is nineteen miles, accomplished with a free balloon.

Prof. Goddard claims his rocket, weighing 1,774 pounds, will lead to great discoveries. The announcement from the Smithsonian states that Prof. Goddard is at present perfecting the reloading mechanism of his rocket and that it is hoped that a demonstration can be made soon.

Big Increase in Velocity.

"The apparatus," the announcement says, "designed and tested by Prof. Goddard is a multiple-charge high efficiency rocket of a new design. The determining factor of the efficiency of a rocket is the velocity of ejection of the gases due to the explosion of the propelling material."

"In the case of ordinary or ship rockets," as tested by Prof. Goddard, the velocity of exit of the gases is low, about a thousand feet per second, giving the rocket an efficiency of only 2 per cent.

"By increasing this velocity, through increasing the proportion of the propelling material to weight of projectile, and through a greatly improved nozzle shape, passage for the escape of the gases, to about 8,000 feet per second, Prof. Goddard has raised the efficiency of the rocket to nearly 64 per cent."

Aid to Weather Forecasts.

"The great scientific value of Prof. Goddard's experiments lies in the possibility of sending recording apparatus to moderate and extreme altitudes within the earth's atmosphere. The nature of the higher levels of the air has for a long time been a subject of much speculation, as to their chemical composition, temperature, electrical nature, density, ozone content, etc."

The highest level that has ever been reached is about sixteen miles, accomplished with a free balloon.

"As the earth's atmosphere extends 200 miles, there is a great unknown region, knowledge of which would greatly benefit the science of meteorology. Weather forecasting, to the most familiar phase of meteorological research, would undoubtedly be improved if daily observations could be taken in the upper levels of the atmosphere."

Why Balloon Tests Fail.

"The present method of observing conditions by means of free balloons is uncertain. The balloon with its recording apparatus requires several hours to ascend to its highest altitude, and may come down at a great distance from its starting place."

"Recovery of the balloon by the sender depends on the chance of its descent being noticed and on the willfulness of the finder to return it. This may be days or weeks before the record taken is made available. The new rocket apparatus would go straight up and come straight down, the whole operation probably consuming less than half an hour. The daily observations for use in weather prediction could be easily taken."

Shoot Moon's Dark Side.

"An interesting speculation is the possibility of sending to the surface of the dark part of the new moon a sufficient amount of brilliant flash powder, which being ignited on impact, would be visible in a powerful telescope. This would be the only way of proving that the rocket had left the attraction of the earth, as the apparatus would never come back once it had escaped that attraction."

"While this experiment would be of little obvious scientific value, its successful trial would be of great general interest as the first actual contact between one planet and another."

"The time of ascent of the rocket will be short, only six and a half minutes being required to carry the apparatus up 230 miles, somewhere near the outer limit of the earth's atmosphere. The too rapid descent of the recording instruments could easily be checked by the use of a small parachute."

New Invention May Penetrate Space.

PLAN NATIONAL DRIVE TO FORCE MILK TO 13 CTS.

Farmer to Grocer to Consumer Is Idea.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Plans for a national drive to force the price of milk down from 16 to 13 cents a quart will be discussed today at a meeting of the executive board of the National Retail Grocers Association of the United States at the Hotel Sherman.

The aid of the other organizations and municipal governments will be enlisted in carrying out the plan which provides for direct distribution of milk from the farmers to the grocers and from them by the cash and carry route to the homes of consumers.

Success in Price.

Soi Westerfield, chairman of the Chicago Retail Food Distributors' central executive committee, said last night that the retail grocers of Chicago would assist in starting the plan if ways and means can be devised to buy the milk and if it can be sold at cheaper prices without incurring trouble with labor unions.

Frank R. Connolly, secretary of the retail grocers' organization in San Francisco, where the experiment has been tried and knocked 1 cent off the price of a quart of milk, said similar plans will be proposed in Toledo, Atlanta, St. Paul, and other cities where the dairy interests have bonded prices beyond the reach of the small pocket book.

How It Was Done.

In San Francisco milk was boosted from 12 to 13 cents last July, jumped to 15 cents in October, and recently went to 16 cents. The grocers, newspapers, and the public joined in the fight.

"We went out into the country and found the dealers had raised the price paid to the farmers," said Mr. Connolly, "but we had the California Milk Producers' association put in a pasteurizing plant and contracted with them to take the largest part of their output. Last Tuesday we got our first supply in bottles and the public revolted at the stores, buying it at 12 cents. The dairies protested and one of the worst dealers dropped his prices to meet ours."

WILSON TODAY CALLS MEETING OF THE LEAGUE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—[Special.]—It is understood that President Wilson tomorrow will sign and issue the call for the first meeting of the council of the league of nations set for next Friday morning, as a result of the exchange of ratifications of the peace treaty at Paris yesterday.

The United States has not ratified the treaty and is not now a party to the peace terms effected with its ratification. For this reason President Wilson will not issue the call for the first meeting of the council of the league in an official capacity.

QUICK ACTION ON PEACE TREATY IS URGED BY BRYAN

(By a Staff Correspondent.)

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 11.—William J. Bryan at his home here tonight continued his efforts looking to a ratification of the treaty of peace by mutual concessions and compromise.

Mr. Bryan tonight sent a number of telegrams to senators at Washington urging them to unite in an endeavor to bring about ratification not later than the 16th of this month. It was peculiarly fitting, he declared, that ratification be accomplished by that time, as the 16th was the date fixed for the first meeting of the league of nations at Paris.

This reason, he said, appealed to him strongly, and he believed it would have the same influence on members of the senate.

He did not disclose to what individual senators the telegrams were sent, but said there were several.

Mr. Bryan said this evening he had not had time previously to consider the question whether he will be a candidate for delegate at large to the Democratic national convention at San Francisco, and it was still a little early to discuss the matter. He would, however, be at the convention, either in the capacity of a delegate or a newspaper representative, and he was a trifle indifferent as to which.

Success in Price.

POET OF FIUME SLAMS WILSON, BRITAIN, PARIS

"Crucified with Fourteen Pointless Nails."

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(By Special Cable.)

Copyright, 1920, by The Tribune Company.
Fiume, Jan. 11.—In a formal interview, Gabriele d'Annunzio answered the questions, "Would he resist? Would he accept a compromise? Would he show up the port of Fiume? He answered them all. Later in an informal talk he leaped from subject to subject.

"What if we perish beneath the cross of Fiume?" the commandant asked. The spirit of our resistance will keep forth watchful and active from the dauntless Sinn Fein of Ireland to the red banner which in Egypt signifies the crescent and cross—all instructions in spirit against the deceptions of raw flesh, against the exhortations of weaponless peoples will flame anew from our sparks flying after.

"Weaponless, we will be armed. The new crusade of all poor impoverished nations is the new crusade of all men who are free against the nations which wrap power to accumulate riches."

"Fourteen Pointless Nails."
"The new crusade will reestablish the true justice which a cold hearted nation crucified with fourteen pointless nails, with a hammer borrowed from the German chancellor of scrap paper fame."

The French, too, D'Annunzio said a word to say.
"When the national council took over the government of Fiume to extend it until a plebiscite, the French arrived and wanted to found the harbor as a French naval base. The French bullied us, as unanswerable documents prove today, under the pretext of needing a base for supplying in the Orient, but only a few of goods passed through Fiume and they could just as well have been shipped through Salonica or elsewhere."

Denounces "Free City."

"Of the peace council's attitude toward Fiume."
"To recognize any work whatsoever having fought tooth and nail to take off and shatter it is the surest sign of slavery." He has shaken off the instant yoke and we are resolved to shake off the new yoke. With that of a forger which is typical of the peace council of forgers known as the peace council the new yoke bears the name Liberty; they name Fiume 'free city'."

"Fiume, a 'free city,' would in a short time become a nest of traffickers, bankers, usurers, and political grafters."
No General About D'Annunzio.

Despite the fire which seems to be auster to Bill D'Annunzio's speech there is a sense of that. He did not impress as a general—the impression you get in an interview with Pershing, Godard, and Hindenburg—but he certainly looked every bit the Lieutenant General. Not once in an hour did his voice rise above a quiet, almost monotonous level, or his hands betray even the commonest expressions of the Latin race.

REDS 'ARK' DUE IN FINLAND TODAY

HELSINKI, Jan. 11.—The United States army transport Buford is expected to arrive here Monday. The passengers it is reported, are to be sent to a point in Finland opposite Sweden.

The Senator says it learns it was originally planned to transport the Red radicals by way of Latvia, but owing to the fighting there the American government asked permission to send them through Finland. The newspaper adds that the Finnish government consented to this, but demanded at the same time that the United States aid in the repatriation of Finns in Russia.

Make Repairs on Buford.

HELSINKI, Jan. 10.—[Delayed.]—The American army transport Buford, under a strong guard, is lying two kilometers from the main Kiel docks in the harbor basin. No one is allowed to go aboard. The repairs will require at least two days, and the vessel is expected to resume the trip Monday.

German Paper Asserts

recently came to the station to gaze upon the prisoners. Over a dozen were absolutely identified.

Identifications Made.

Gust Arigel, 529 South Morgan street, pointed out Ben-Amin Feldman, 1436 South Sawyer avenue, and Mike Rosen, 5345 South Sawyer avenue, as the men who held him up near his home several weeks ago, stealing $40.

Charles Budrus, owner of a saloon at 738 West Eighteenth street, identified Joseph Armstrong, 3055 Taylor street, as the "stickup" man who took his money two weeks ago.
Daniel Irving, 783 Miller street, was identified by Peter Ropinski, 2620 Haddon avenue, as the highwayman who held him up several nights ago.
Harold Cairns, 231 South Racine avenue, picked out John Bowen, 2805 Cottage Grove avenue, as the man who took $10 from him at the point of a gun.

Olsen Again Accused.

Harry Olsen, the boy who shot South Park policeman John McNamee as he was trying to help one of Olsen's gang to the hospital, had another crime pinned upon him when he was identified by Francis Lucas, 1822 West Forty-seventh street, as the man who robbed him of $35 shortly before the shooting of the policeman.
William Little, a Negro, 2013 South State street, was identified as a holdup man by Daniel Lyons, 2023 Emerald avenue.

Mrs. Adeline Bartels of 4240 West Twenty-third street pointed out Harry Althoff, 1204 Taylor street, as a holdup man. Lawrence Schloesser, 4713 Beacon street, identified Benny Wolfe, 1724 Taylor street, as another.

Shooting Cases.

The bureau is also looking into its records for light on the career of William Lee, late of Kankakee, now of the bridgehead hospital. He was shot by Policeman Michael Flanagan early Sunday morning when he ran from the policeman and his partner, William Fitzgerald.

The fourth shooting incident to the cleanup came when Joseph Zaman, 17 years old, 4607 South Talman avenue, was shot in the leg by Policeman Charles Paviak at Forty-seventh street and Oakley avenue.

It was a running fight, in which Zaman broke away from the policeman half a dozen times and was only stopped when his clothing became caught while climbing a fence. Zaman was being sought in connection with a recent burglary and had escaped from the Juvenile Detention home. Police officers guard him.

man Paviak was assigned to his capture several weeks ago. He trapped him yesterday.

Raids Will Continue.

"The raids are going to be continuous," said John H. Alcock, first deputy superintendent of police. "We're going to show the crooks they cannot live in Chicago. Here's a wire just came from Chief Garrity in St. Louis, addressed to his secretary, Charley Agnew. He says:
"Congratulations to Alcock and all members of the police department. Let the good work continue."

Premier Calls Meeting
to Solve Railway Issue

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Premier Lloyd George has summoned Sir Robert Stevenson Horn, minister of labor, and Sir Eric Geddes, minister of transportation, to Paris for a consultation on the railway dispute. The ministers expected to return Tuesday, when the cabinet will discuss the matter further and meet the railway men's committee.

FOREIGN NEWS NOTES.

PARIS.—Between 6,000 and 7,000 German prisoners will be repatriated daily as soon as the necessary railway cars arrive from Germany.

BERLIN.—The currency circulation at the end of last year was 49,500,000, 000 marks, according to the imperial bank.

BERLIN.—A provisional agreement has been reached in the strike of the Berlin insurance clerks. The employees consented to a considerable reduction in their demands.

LONDON.—Immediate formation of a national party including the Unionists and the remnant of the Liberal organization to present an effective front to the laborites is suggested by Lord Chamberlain Birkenhead.

CAIRO.—The council of ministers has decided to impose a tax of 55 per cent on cotton to meet the loss resulting from the sale of flour to people in the city who have not profited from agricultural prosperity.

CONSTANTINOPLE.—The submarine ports will send to the allied powers at an early date a memorandum outlining proposed reforms regarded as needed in Turkey and recognizing the necessity for cooperation by the experts of foreign countries.

PARIS.—A large store in the center of Paris has been searched by representatives of the service for the suppression of frauds. This establishment handles clothing, shoes, and umbrellas, and a preliminary investigation of its books shows profiteering to the extent of 55 to 90 per cent.

Will Seize $3,000,000
Sent by Slovaks of U. S.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Three million dollars collected and sent by Slovaks in the United States to Prague to be used to fight politically against the Czechs for the liberty of their country, have been sequestered at Prague, according to the newspaper Slovenski Denik. The newspaper adds that the money probably will be confiscated by the state.

ENGLAND'S POOR ARE MENACED BY COAL JUGGLING

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The British domestic coal situation is increasingly serious, and small consumers are facing immediate famine. Stocks in towns are within a few days of exhaustion. Additional transport troubles are important factors in the government price control muddle.

A few weeks ago the government reduced the price of domestic coal 10 shillings a ton, but maintained higher prices for coal for industrial use and export.

Naturally the result has been a diversion of coal by mine owners to the more profitable trades and the starvation of the domestic trade. This has nothing to do with voluntary coal saving by the well-to-do, which has been such a strong factor in the English fuel situation, but affects the poor and small middle class consumers, who have no room to keep their own stocks and must buy from hand to mouth. Fortunately, the weather now is mild, but should a cold spell come, there would be great suffering in London and other big towns.

Nearing Speech Stopped
Till Old Glory Is Raised

New York, Jan. 11.—Until the American flag was placed behind the speaker's stand, Prof. Scott Nearing was not allowed to deliver his lecture on "Socialism" here tonight. Nearing spoke in the public library in Yonkers. When the meeting finally was opened a former service man jumped to his feet and asked that the American flag be displayed. Others seconded the motion.

Nearing spoke about twenty minutes and at the close of his remarks was challenged to a debate on "Socialism" by Peter Collins of Chelsea, Mass., representing the Knights of Columbus.

GERMANY FACES FUTURE WITH A BRAVE FRONT

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—[Delayed.]—Commenting on the ratification of the Versailles treaty, the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung says:

"It would be unworthy to look sorrowfully backward and useless to seek scapegoats on whom to cast responsibility for our national misfortune."
"If we can only establish internal order," declares the Zeitung am Mittag, "we shall be able to bear the economic conditions of this hardest of peace."

The Vossische Zeitung says: "This document now sealed means peace between governments, but certainly not peace for the life of nations. All that has been attained is the possibility of beginning work for the conclusion of a real peace between nations. The German nation must put forth its strength, because fulfillment of the engagement entered into is an obligation of honor, and because its work will help again in advancing the interests of civilization and humanity."

The Berliner Tageblatt says: "It now is the duty of Germany honorably to fulfill the stipulations of the treaty to the best of her ability. The quicker Germany attains her moral recovery and the good regulation of her internal conditions, the quicker will come the opportunity of getting the treaty peaceably revised."

CONSTANTINOPLE, Tuesday, Jan. 11.—The death is announced of Ismet Bey, governor general of Smyrna. Ismet Bey died suddenly from heart disease.

VESSEL ON ROCK; 35 OF CREW OF 42 BRITONS DROWN

Boats Swamped; 'Mined'
Steamer Is Safe.

WELMOUTH, England, Jan. 11.—Thirty-five members of the crew of forty-two of the British steamer Trevel were drowned when the big vessel was wrecked on Kimmer Edge rock near St. Albans head during a violent storm in the channel Saturday.
The Trevel was light on the rock and unable to get clear because both wind and sea were against it. A lifeboat tried several times to reach the doomed steamer but was beaten back by the storm. It was impossible for the coast guard to shoot a line to the ship because of its distance from land. Finally the captain signaled to the tug that he was going to abandon the ship. The crew put off in two boats, which were immediately swamped. The sailors fought for their lives, but only seven reached shore. The captain was among those drowned.

"Lost" Steamer Is Safe.

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 11.—The Italian steamer Principessa Matilde, which was reported yesterday to have struck a mine and sunk with a loss of 700 lives, is safe, according to advices received here.

Pick Up Three Men at Sea.

COLON, Jan. 10.—[Delayed.]—Capt. Olsen of the steamship Lake Zema, reported on arriving today that he had picked up the master and two men of the crew of the schooner Rosina which was drifting helplessly and in a sinking condition off the Carolina coast. At that time the schooner was filling rapidly and it is believed it has sunk.

Suffrage Pries Way Into
London Benchers' Temple

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Four women recently admitted as students to the Temple formally "dined in the hall" with the benchers tonight. This was the first occasion of such a privilege being accorded and the first time any woman has been permitted in the hall during a dinner since Queen Elizabeth visited the first performance of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" in the same hall.

Italian Loan Drive Over
8 Billion Lire in Week

ROME, Jan. 11.—All expectations as to the success of the Italian loan were surpassed at the close of the first week. Subscriptions have already passed the 8,000,000,000 lira mark, and it is believed the total will exceed 15,000,000,000 lire, the amount set as the goal.

BLAMES ALLIES FOR RED POWER OVER RUSSIANS

Kerensky Says They Aid
Royalists.

BY A. E. JOHNSON.
(United News Staff Correspondent.)
London, Jan. 11.—France, England, and the United States, shocked by the gigantic "steamroller success" of the bolsheviks throughout Russia, are merely reaping the inevitable results of their policy of aiding monarchists and other enemies of democracy since the armistice.

Alexander Kerensky, former premier of Russia and at one time the idol of his country and the hope of the allies, thus expressed his feelings today. He added that the bolsheviks would succeed in their efforts so long as the allies "interfere in Russia's internal affairs."

Kerensky is residing in seclusion near Tannenberg. He is rapidly regaining his health.

"Chances of Two Evils."
"Russia," said Kerensky, "is enduring bolshevism and the ultra-radicals in order to escape the monarchistic representatives. I predicted eighteen months ago that this would be the inevitable aftermath of the schisming and intrigues of European governments interfering in Russia's internal affairs by adding Kolchak, Denikine, and Yudenitch, who are surrounded by the darkest elements of the old monarchy."

"The declarations of Premier Lloyd George and President Clemenceau that they would not aid the monarchists were commendable; but they are merely empty words."

Fears Scheming of Japan.
Kerensky said he was not surprised at the anti-ally demonstrations in Vladivostok and other Siberian cities.

"I am concerned about Secretary Lansing's purported acquiescence to give Japan a free hand in Siberia," he said. "I am hoping that is untrue, because it is not right and would be most dangerous for the future peace of Russia, China and the United States."

"Acquisition of the coal and iron deposits in Siberia would make the Japanese economically independent, and enable them to carry on an imperialistic program which would make a potential enemy of democracy and an ever growing menace to civilization."

"Attempt to justify Japan's aggression in Siberia for the purpose of preventing bolshevism spreading into China is extremely flimsy. It is impossible for racial, temperamental, industrial, and economic reasons."

NO LETUP BY BOLSHIEVIKI

1—Yakutsk, a town of the Don Cossacks, has fallen, and the bolsheviks are spending at the gates of Rostov-on-Don, 41,000 prisoners, seven tanks, thirty-three guns, and 175 machine guns are reported captured.

2—Ukrainian Reds have Odessa surrounded, and the city's fall is believed near. The eastern half of Denikine's army is reported to be trying to escape by way of Kherson.

3—Reports from Paul Williams, Tribune correspondent with Denikine, says that the Cossacks have no illusions regarding their serious position. Denikine is moving his capital to Ekaterinodar, while his minister of justice is going to Yalta on the Crimea. The sea routes between the Crimea and the Caucasus have not been cut as yet.

Three Railway Employees on Italy's Road Council

ROME, Jan. 11.—The Italian government has decided that three representatives of the railway men, elected by themselves, shall be included in the administrative council of the state railways. Pending the regulation of the new scale of wages, 190,000,000 lire will be distributed among the railway men. The Tribune expresses confidence that a general strike will be averted.

New Zealand's Official Vote Beating Prohibition

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, Jan. 11.—The official vote in the recent "license" referendum in New Zealand showed that for continuance of the licensing system 240,998 votes were cast; for state purchase and control of liquors, 22,144, and for prohibition, 270,178. The prohibitionists, therefore, were 2,888 votes short of the absolute majority required.

BERLIN FALTERS IN PUNISHING BALTIC OFFICERS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—That the German government will keep its promise to punish the Von der Goltz officers, who brought the word "boche" back to the lips of the interallied commissions in Berlin, already is extremely doubtful. Chancellor Bauer assured Gen. Nissen, head of the commission for evacuation of the Baltic provinces, of a swift investigation and punishment of the guilty as certain, but a "semi-official" announcement in the Berlin press through the official Wolff bureau, which is the first word published here, is halfhearted. Instead of telling the full truth that Gen. Nissen formally complained of and furnished the names of the offenders and specified the offenses, such as a German officer spitting in the face of the British lieutenant, Lloyd Wilson, while he was held helpless by armed German troops, the statement speaks only of publications in the foreign press, meaning the European edition of THE TRIBUNE. It continues an investigation has been begun and in event the charges have a foundation vicious proceedings will be instituted.

The only indication of real action of the government is to recall Von Eberhard from command of the East Prussian frontier. He is accused of responsibility for much of the misconduct of the Von der Goltz troops and is now stationed at Königsberg, but even the announcement of his recall is unofficial and cloaked with the statement that his mission for evacuating the Baltic is completed.

DENIKINE SHIFTS GOVERNMENT BACK INTO THE CAUCASUS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Paul Williams, the staff correspondent of The Tribune with Denikine's army, whose safety has been in doubt since the rapid advance of the Reds, has been heard from. He was safe at Rostov on Dec. 30, but his cable gives no hint of his plans, if the bolshevik advance continues. It is clear that Denikine had no illusions regarding his bad situation. The allied mission had moved south, from Taganrog, but Mr. Williams intended to stay as near the fighting line as possible. The following cable has been received from Mr. Williams:

TAGANROG, Dec. 30.—Colonels Cox and Castle, military observers just arrived from the United States at Taganrog in time to get orders to go back south.

Gen. Denikine's civilian government is moving its capital to Ekaterinodar, the minister of justice going to Yalta in the Crimea.

The rails between Rostov and the Crimea are out, but sea communication remains open.

Gen. Denikine lacks coal, as he was unable to mine sufficient even for his needs, though he held the whole Donets basin.

NURSE'S TALE OF MUSTARD DEATH MYSTERY BARED

Says Freudenberg Denied Other Medics' Orders.

BY LEOLA ALLARD.

Marquette, Wis., Jan. 11.—Testimony by Miss Grace Brehl, the nurse who is said to be the most important witness against Dr. John A. Freudenberg, charged by the coroner's jury with causing the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Nettie Duffies, has been kept from every one except the jurors, who were allowed to read her depositions.

Questions have been asked regarding what she had to say, but the substance of her testimony has been kept a secret, and the jurors have been instructed not to talk.

One of the jurors, however, disclosed some of the things in her depositions. He said it was W. E. Terry, Mrs. Freudenberg's uncle, whom Dr. Freudenberg sent for the mustard the night he is charged to have been injected into Mrs. Duffies' bladder. Mr. Terry confirmed this, and said the doctor asked him to bring a pound of mustard, but cautioned him not to forget the mustard.

Defied Other Doctors. The juror quoted the deposition further as saying that Miss Brehl overheard Mrs. Freudenberg talking with her husband in the bathroom, asking what medicine he was going to give her. He said it was blameworthy. The wife is said to have replied, "Blameworthy is yellow." His answer was that he had used rainwater.

The nurse said the doctors who were in attendance on Mrs. Duffies and who were on their way back to Fond du Lac, declared Mrs. Duffies was not to have the injection. Despite this, she said, Dr. Freudenberg gave Mrs. Duffies two injections of morphine and then the bladder injection. The pain was so intense that the liquid was not retained. The substance expelled was the color of mustard.

Tells of Finding Burn. The nurse said she soaked a piece of cotton in the solution and took it to Dr. R. C. Nixon, continued the juror. "He said he said it smelled like mustard, but threw the cotton away."

Dr. Freudenberg testified at the coroner's inquest that he put argerol with the blamuth and that colored it yellow.

The pathologist of the state of Wisconsin told me, and he will testify to this effect later, that the woman's bladder was full of scar tissue at the bottom, where the liquid would remain. The patient was in a lying position, and the scar tissue was not washed out. The scar tissue evidently was made by something that burned the tissue.

I asked whether a solution of argerol would do this. He said, "Most emphatically, no. Mustard would do exactly that."

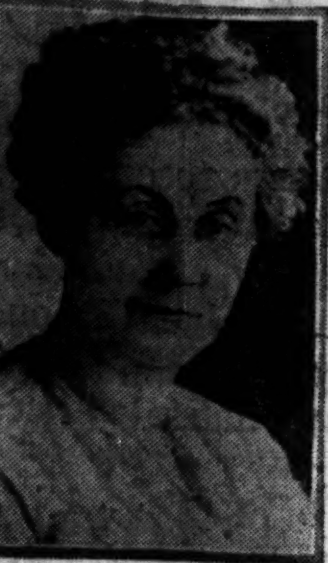

Doctors to Testify Today. Dr. William H. Folsom and Dr. H. C. O'Neil of Fond du Lac, called into the case by Mrs. Duffies' brother, William Perry, will testify for the prosecution, Mr. Perry announced today.

"I haven't spoken to my niece since her mother died," said Mr. Perry, "but I am her best friend. It was mostly my sister's money that was spent in that house. Gladys (Mrs. Freudenberg) knew how to hang onto her money. Even now Dr. Freudenberg doesn't know how much money his wife is worth. She persistently refused to tell him about her money affairs."

A malpractice case against him and Mrs. Duffies $1,500. W. M. Spooner

MUSTARD VICTIM

Woman in Marquette, Wis., Mystery Whose Death Is Charged to Son-in-Law.

MRS. NETTIE DUFFIES.

of Milwaukee, his present attorney, represented him.

His Wife's Shadow. Dr. Freudenberg has been his wife's shadow ever since they went to live with the Duffies, five of whom died suddenly during the last four years.

Today I visited them. The wife sat on a piano bench and twisted her fingers nervously. She would smile, then change her expression suddenly and seem ready to weep.

The doctor all day in his rocker until his unhealthy complexion was nearly hidden under his collar. His eyes are strange and hypnotic and he refused to discuss his case "until the time comes," when he will have "much to tell." He looks worried and uncomfortable.

The doctor has no intimates and his only associates are his employees.

Dr. Nixon, brother of Miss Brehl, said today that after his sister had brought him what he thought to be a mustard swab, he got out of the place as fast as possible. He had been called in consultation the day before by Dr. Freudenberg.

Warrent for Doctor Today. District Attorney Paul announced he would swear out a warrant tomorrow for the arrest of Dr. Freudenberg, charging him with murder, and that the physician would be taken to Green Lake, the county seat.

"I have nothing to fear," said Dr. Freudenberg, on hearing this. "It's a nice day, isn't it?"

Man's Body to Be Examined. The body of Alfred Duffies, second husband of Mrs. Duffies, who died in March, 1917, will be examined on Wednesday, but first the county board will have to grant an appropriation. The vital organs of the man will be sent to Chicago for analysis.

Two letters written by Duffies, but never delivered, are expected to play a part in the trial of the physician. One, written to a man in Chicago, has to do with financial matters. The other was written to his brother in Washington. Both are in the hands of the prosecutor, but just what their contents may be he will not say.

Resigns Post in Legion to Seek Seat in Council

Former Lieut. Newton Jenkins of the 5th U. S. Marines who fought in the 24 division in France is now preparing to fight for a seat in the city council. In order to avoid in any way involving the American Legion in politics, he has resigned his position as commander of Victory post No. 1 of the legion before entering the aldermanic race. Mr. Jenkins, a lawyer with offices in the Marquette building, is to become a candidate in the Twenty-seventh ward.

WE HAVE BUT ONE MANDATE—THAT OF HONOR—WOOD

War's Wealth Must Feed the Hungry, He Says.

Passaic, N. J., Jan. 11.—Smash the Red flag; bar the nation's gates to undesirable immigrants and Americanize the desirable ones; teach Americanism in our schools; and see that the teachers are properly paid and cared for; tolerate but one flag and one language—these doctrines were urged tonight by Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood at a meeting under the combined auspices of the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., and the Passaic Boys' club to raise funds for new club buildings.

There is a good deal of uneasiness now in the country," Gen. Wood said. "This is no time for new experiments, for new theories, for loose thinking. The watchword should be 'steady' and the slogan 'law and order,' the rights of property, the courts, the constituted authorities—all of those things."

Run Out the Red Allen. Gen. Wood declared that the Red element can be readily disposed of through deporting those who are alien and turning the citizen portion over to the courts.

Ninety-five per cent of American labor is clean, square, and sound. But the vicious element is from the other 5 per cent, and, while we are getting rid of a bad lot, don't let us take in any more unless we know who they are."

He declared Americans are much more careful in selecting battle for their farms than in selecting foreigners who will form part of our population.

Only Room for One Flag. Turning to the question of language the general advocated one language throughout the grade schools.

"We want to build up a certain national solidarity and there is no stronger influence than a common language," he said.

And we want to drive home the fact that there is no room in this country for any flag but our own flag. Wherever you find the red flag, don't tolerate it; don't listen to the people who carry it; but smash it!"

Remarking that the war has given place to a world-wide commercial struggle, Gen. Wood urged the building up of a merchant marine. He also advocated a small but highly efficient army, a first class and ever ready navy and some kind of a training system backed by public opinion.

As to America's Mandates. In regard to America's obligations abroad he said:

"We have got a mandate overseas; it is a mandate which comes from the only source from which we will ever accept a mandate, and that mandate is from the conscience of the American people."

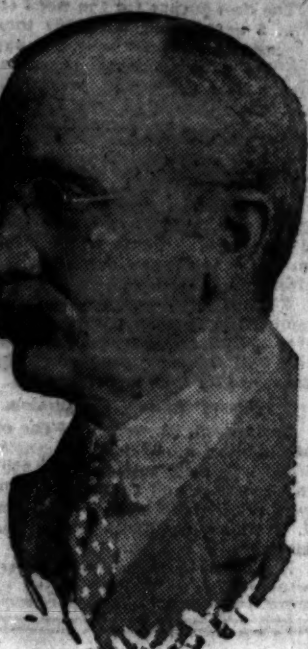

"That mandate is to do with the wealth which has come to us from this war, everything possible to clothe the naked, to feed the starving, to shelter the homeless who have been left dying literally by the millions from this great war. That is the mandate that the American people have got today and that is the mandate I am sure we are going to carry out."

Shoe Prices to Stand Still for the Next Five Months

New York, Jan. 11.—[Special.]—Assurances that there will be no increase in the price to retailers within the next five months of shoes of standard fast and workmanship were given today by representatives of the leading shoe manufacturers in this district. But there is no likelihood of decreased prices in the immediate future.

MEDAL WINNER

New York Electrical Engineer Given the Edison Award for 1919.

W. L. R. EMMET.

New York, Jan. 11.—W. L. R. Emmet, Schenectady, pioneer in the development of electrical propulsion for ships, has been awarded the Edison medal for 1919 for "meritorious achievement in electrical science, electrical engineering, and the electrical arts," it was announced here tonight.

HOBBART'S WIDOW OUT OF POLITICS; SUFFRAGE CAUSE

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Jennie T. Hobart of this city, widow of Garret A. Hobart, vice president in the first administration of President McKinley, today notified Edward C. Stokes, formerly governor of New Jersey and at present chairman of the Republican state committee, that she is through with politics.

In withdrawing from political activities Mrs. Hobart, who is an ardent anti-suffragist, takes the view that the progress of Socialism and Bolshevism has been greatly accelerated by giving the women the vote.

International Suffrage Convention in Spain Soon

New York, Jan. 11.—The first international woman's suffrage convention since the war will be held in Spain in May, according to a letter received today by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the International Suffrage alliance, from Marquessa del Ter, head of the Spanish National Council of Women. It will be attended by delegates representing 100,000,000 women.

That mandate is to do with the wealth which has come to us from this war, everything possible to clothe the naked, to feed the starving, to shelter the homeless who have been left dying literally by the millions from this great war. That is the mandate that the American people have got today and that is the mandate I am sure we are going to carry out."

In view of these greatly reduced prices each sale must be considered final—no returns—no refunds.

HERE'S HOOVER'S HARDEST JOB: TO FATTEN DONKEY

Democrats May Have Him Ride 1920 Steed.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—Herbert Hoover, carrying a platform of constructive policies, national and international, for the benefit not only of the United States, but also for rebuilding the world, is being looked to by Democratic leaders as the leading "dark horse" of their party for the convention next June.

And it is significant that among those talking Hoover now are personal friends and past supporters of President Wilson.

A second aftermath of the meeting here of the Democratic national committee is the statement of a number of William G. McAdoo's friends that he soon will announce that he is not a candidate and will then get out of the political maelstrom to watch which way the wind blows between now and convention day.

Tested Before an Audience. There is no doubt as to the increase of Hoover sentiment the last few days. Whether by accident or design, it was given an open test at the Democratic banquet at the Willard Thursday.

James W. Gerard, himself a candidate, told his audience that a friend who was advocating his nomination as president in a public speech not long ago, said:

"James W. Gerard would make a great candidate for the presidency. There is only one other that would make a greater—and that is Herbert Hoover."

Gerard's mention of Hoover's name drew applause, the length of which was exceeded by that accorded few of the outpoken candidates.

A member of the president's official family said today that while there would be bombs galore before the convention, he believed the party would come to the final conclusion that Hoover was the man to lead.

His Strong Point. Hoover, it is pointed out, is for the peace treaty and strongly for active participation of the United States in the old world's efforts to "come back." Regardless of what happens to the peace treaty, Democrats believe the duties of the nation under the pact will be discussed in the forthcoming campaign, and friends of Hoover say he above every one else would best be able specifically to show wherein America should and could help.

Of course, Hoover persistently refuses to let any one book him as a candidate.

NEWS PURELY PERSONAL

BRIG. GEN. W. D. CONNOR, chief of the service of supply of the American army in France, left Antwerp for America yesterday, accompanied by a number of officers and men.

ADMIRAL VISCOUNT JELlicoe and SIR ROBERT BORDEN, premier of Canada sailed yesterday from Havana on a British cruiser for an unknown port.

GEN. JOHN J. PERSHING and his staff arrived yesterday for a thirty-six hour stay at the Fort Riley (Kansas) military reservation, being greeted by a salute of seventeen guns.

HOMER S. CUMMINGS, chairman of the Democratic national committee, will visit San Francisco soon to assist in arrangements for the national convention.

CARDINAL GIUSTINI, prefect of the Congregation of Sacraments, has been named by Pope Benedict as the protector of the sisters of the Order of St. Francis at Joliet, Ill.

GOV. BURNQUIST OF MINNESOTA INDORSES WOOD

A formal statement endorsing Gen. Leonard Wood for the Republican presidential nomination was issued yesterday by Gov. J. A. Burnquist of Minnesota at St. Paul.

He also announced his acceptance of a membership on the Wood national campaign committee from Minnesota.

"In accepting a position on Gen. Wood's committee, I wish to say that I am strongly in favor of Gen. Wood for president," the statement reads. "From reports and conversations with people of different portions of Minnesota, I am firmly convinced that he is the choice of the Republicans of this state."

Other members of the Wood campaign committee announced yesterday at the headquarters here are Allan B. Jaynes, Republican national committeeman from Arizona, and John C. Greenway from the same state. Mr. Greenway is better known as "Jack" Greenway, former Yale football star, who served with the Rough Riders in the Spanish-American war and served as a colonel recently in France.

That the united support of the Republicans of Colorado is behind the Wood candidacy was the opinion expressed by two visitors to the headquarters, Clarence Phelps Dodge, publisher of the Colorado Springs Gazette, and Clarence C. Hamlin, editor of the Colorado Springs Evening Telegraph.

VOLCANO, QUAKE, FLOODS, POISON, HUNGER, DESPAIR

Loss of Life in Mexico Mounts with Reports.

Mexico City, Jan. 11.—Six hundred persons were killed in the destruction of Barranca Grande by the recent earthquake, according to Vera Cruz dispatches last night.

Island, former capital, and Teocelo were virtually ruined, it is said, while the village of Ayahualco was crushed by great rocks from the adjacent mountain. A similar fate is reported to have befallen the village of Exhuacan.

One small child is said to be the only survivor of the village of Sanito, Puebla, which was overwhelmed by poisonous gases. Indian refugees at Huamantla from the San Miguel region are unable to give any details regarding the loss of lives there, but say hundreds were killed.

New Crater Explodes.
Although the new crater at San Miguel is still emitting fire and smoke, reports from other districts in the earthquake zone add little to those already received. Government dispatches filed after the first excitement and confusion give small hope that the original estimates of 1,000 dead will be decreased.

A slight variation in the names of places inundated by a lake formed in the Cofre de Perote valley is given in a Vera Cruz report. It said the towns covered by the waters were Patatlan, Guisamatlan, Barranca Grande, Guisamatlan, Tlahuacan, Chichil, and San Jose-Aichichil.

Series of Tremors.
A telegram received here yesterday from the mayor of La Pragua, Puebla, stated he had been unable to report sooner because of almost continuous shocks, which had almost levelled the place. His said seventy bodies had been recovered from the ruins, that many persons were dying of their injuries, and that food and all supplies were running low.

Dispatches from Coahuila state new shocks were felt there on Friday. In the city of Vera Cruz a heavy storm had blown down the tower of the city, which was weakened by the earthquake.

FIVE HUNDRED ILL IN A SMALL OKLAHOMA TOWN

Oklahoma City, Okla., Jan. 11.—Five hundred of the 2,000 inhabitants of Hinton, Tulsa county, are seriously ill of a strange malady which baffles physicians, according to reports to the state health department here.

Several deaths have occurred. In the opinion of one of the physicians in the town, the disease is a mild form of typhoid. The disease begins with an attack of dysentery and causes a loss of weight, according to the report.

The state health department will send three physicians and ten inspectors to the town tomorrow.

N. Y. SOCIALISTS PLAN FINISH FIGHT TO GET IN ASSEMBLY

SPEAKER THADDEUS C. SWEET.

New York, Jan. 11.—A brilliant array of eminent counsel, chiefly constitutional lawyers, will plead the cause of the five suspended Socialist assemblymen when they appear before the judicial committee at Albany Wednesday, it was announced after an executive meeting of state and city leaders of the party here today. Charles E. Hughes, who voiced disapproval of the assembly's course in a letter to Speaker Sweet, may be one of them.

Plans were made at the conference for a finish fight.—Contributions and pledges of support have been received from all parts of the country, it was stated.

Evidence regarding the alleged collusion between the Luck legislative investigating committee and the British secret service in making raids in New York will be placed in the hands of Gov. Smith or government officials at Washington. Assemblyman Louis Waldman, one of the suspended Socialists, announced tonight. He said that he and his colleagues also were willing to give the information to "any other disinterested public official."

Detroit Reck On for "Homa."
Detroit, Mich., Jan. 11.—Thirty-five aliens ordered deported left today for Ellis island. A thousand friends and sympathizers gave the deportees a noisy sendoff, but there was no disorder. Hearings of 252 others for whom immigration officials hold deportation warrants are scheduled to commence Tuesday.

Air Lieutenant Killed, Observer Hurt, in Crash

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 11.—Lieut. Bruce Struthers was instantly killed and Lieut. J. Evans severely injured when an airplane in which they were attempting to make a forced landing crashed at Douglas. Struthers and Evans were members of the 13th Aero Squadron. Struthers was piloting the machine and Evans acting as observer.

WORLD'S RECORD AIRPLANE SALE MADE AT SHOW

Tulsa Man Buys 447 for Use Over Oil Fields.

The world's largest sale of commercial airplanes has been made at the Aeronautical show in the Coliseum. It was announced yesterday. Four hundred and forty-seven "ships" have been sold by the Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor corporation to B. L. Brooks of Tulsa, Okla., for $2,500,000. The order includes 200 planes of the Oriole and Seagull types, three seated land machines and flying boats, and 247 JN-4's, the training plane type.

The deal was closed by J. M. Eckel of Racine, Wis., assistant sales manager of the Curtiss company.

"I have sold more than 100 planes to oil men during the last year," he said.

George M. Brown, director of the aero show, estimated the total sales of the week at 1,700 planes by the time the exhibition ends on Thursday night.

Today is "Landed day" at the exposition. Maj. Reed Landis will make his first observation flight for his father, Judge Landis.

Dog Fights Poolroom Raiders Until Killed

Detective Sergeants Holmes, McLaughlin, and Boltan got into the poolroom of Anton Farrago, 848 Milton avenue, but only over the body of Farrago's dog "Ruffles." He held them at bay until they had put fourteen bullets into him. Then only did he surrender. All the men in the place were arrested.

COLVER EAGER FOR CLABAUGH 'FULL INQUIRY'

Washington, D. C., Jan. 11.—[Special.]—William H. Colver of the federal trade commission, replying to charges made by Hinton G. Clabaugh of Chicago that he was in "sympathetic harmony" with the Southern Wholesale Grocers' association, admitted tonight that he was not out of harmony with this association.

"I am very glad to say," Mr. Colver said, "that there is sympathetic harmony between myself and all law-abiding business people, and that means nearly everybody."

Referring to an appeal sent to the senate agriculture committee for an investigation of Colver's charge that there was a packers' frameup in the recent arrest of Rafael Mallen, to discredit the trade commission, Mr. Colver said:

"I hope Clabaugh will get all the investigation he wants and then some."

Business Good?

Most of us are smiling now. But how is it going to be a year from now? Some concerns are making the mistake of stopping their sales efforts almost entirely, simply because business is coming so easily now, figuring that when it lets down it will be an easy matter to build it up again.

Don't be deceived. The public forgets quickly. A little money spent now in keeping your name before your trade, through the mails, will produce results later on, when you need them, at much less cost to you than later efforts when the buying fever has cooled off.

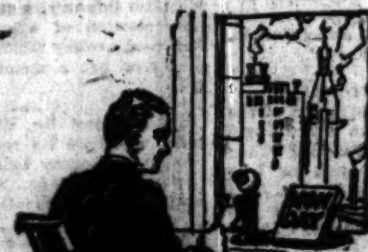

We are ready to work with you, if you wish, and will be glad to suggest plans to dovetail with yours and meet the individual requirements of your business.

PROFIT SHARING, NOT BONUS, IS SAVANT'S CURE

Industrial Peace Thus,
Says Dean Heilman.

"The bonus system is all wrong." With that declaration Dean Ralph Heilman of the Northwestern university school of commerce stirred up his audience, the Evanston Current Events club, last night.

The employee receiving a bonus, which comes to him suddenly a few days before Christmas, takes it as a gift rather than as anything he has earned," the dean said.

In fact, many employees look upon the bonus as patronage or charity—something given them as a crumb from an overburdened table of riches, or as an incentive to keep on working without asking a raise.

For Profit Sharing.

"I am in favor of the profit sharing system. That will establish confidence between employer and employee and away with strikes. Employees of private firms have, of course, the right to strike; but those employed by public utilities should not be allowed to strike."

A business man arose and explained that the bonus was given to his employees last Christmas to offset the high cost of living. He believed they could use the money, he said, and hadn't heard a whisper out of any of them.

No Cause for Worry.

"Nevertheless," insisted the dean, "it is the profit sharing plan and not the bonus system that should be followed. Nothing will do away with this feeling of unrest so quickly as confidence between employer and employee, and the profit sharing plan establishes this. However, the country doesn't seem to fear any serious overthrow by the agents of radicalism. The war is merely the outcome of the war."

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Phelps Hoyt of 445 Greenwood avenue. His father has been an organist in Chicago for thirty-five years.

PASTOR GIVES HIS VERSION OF TRIP MADE WITH GIRL

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 11.—[Special.] Until word is received from the authorities at Denver, the Rev. Eugenio De Luca, formerly pastor of a Chicago Heights church, who was arrested at Tinajas at the Mexican border Friday on a charge of having violated the Mann act, will remain in jail at San Diego. Miss Mary Colantonio, the church worker whose trip from Denver to Los Angeles with De Luca, gave rise to the charges, is under surveillance in the southern city, where she is in charge of De Luca's four children. Their mother is in Chicago, whether she was summoned by a fake telegram when De Luca, the girl, and his four children left Denver about a month ago.

"I wanted to get away from Denver with my children because of the trouble following the filing of a divorce suit by Mrs. De Luca," says the minister. "I decided to come to Los Angeles and brought along Miss Colantonio to care for the children. She has been a member of my family for ten years and I only considered it natural to bring her west as a part of my household. We made a hurried trip to Mexico when we learned the federal authorities were about to act against us."

In her divorce complaint, Mrs. De Luca charges De Luca had been compelled to resign his pastorate at the Chicago Heights church because of his conduct with Miss Colantonio.

DR. X'S LANDLADY FOR YEAR TALKS OF MYSTERY MAN

Lambertville, N. J., Jan. 11.—Dr. John L. Brand, "Dr. X," whose lost identity has just been revealed to him and to the world by his son, spent the greater part of last year in Trenton, it was established today through a letter from Miss Christina Luparies, who was the "mystery man's" landlady there.

According to Miss Luparies, Dr. Brand, who received mail addressed to Charles Malley, spent the greater part of his time reading books on astronomy, history, medicine, and Greek literature.

"It was over ten months ago that, rather poorly dressed, but with a pleasant face, he came to my home," Miss Luparies said. "He gave no name and never told me what his name was."

He always claimed the mail addressed "Charles Malley." He never ate meals with us, but frequented a small restaurant near by. He spent practically all his time in his room or at the public library.

"He was a very clean old man and bathed oftener than any one else in the house, but he never wore any suit except the one he had on the day he engaged the room. He was always prompt in paying his room rent and often paid in advance."

Lieutenant Commander Charles L. Brand, who identified the doctor as his father, spent last night with Dr. Brand. Aside from a hazy recollection of the time when his son graduated from Annapolis about ten years ago the aged physician was unable to remember any details of his family life.

COUNTY MERIT SERVICE COSTS UP ONLY $4,105

Annual Report Urges
Changes in Law.

The twenty-fourth annual report of Cook county civil service commission, prepared by Paul Hestberg, president of the commission, during the year of 1935, was filed with the county clerk, during the year of 1935, an increase of $4,105 was reported over the preceding year.

The commission accepted 127 resignations, and granted 307 sick leave during the year.

During the session of the last legislature the commission prepared and submitted a comprehensive civil service bill for Cook county, which was introduced in the senate but failed to pass.

The commission, after conference with the Cook county commissioners, prepared and submitted to Gov. Low a bill which, if enacted, would provide for the creation of a department of public safety, which would have jurisdiction of all municipalities of more than 100,000 people, each in charge of the police and fire departments, and the city of Chicago, which is appointed by the chief presiding officer of the municipality, who shall administer all municipal affairs.

At present there are four separate civil service commissions in Cook county, the city of Chicago, and the park boards—all doing some important details. The bill makes uniform the service of all Illinois municipalities affected by the bill, and the city of Chicago, which is appointed by the chief presiding officer of the municipality, who shall administer all municipal affairs.

A million dollar bond issue was passed last November for the building of a new juvenile detention home, which the law provides for the custody of children in one department on children's welfare, whose suitable elective head shall be a judge of the Children's court.

HOPES SOFT HEARTED PUBLIC WILL BECOME SOFT HEADED AS WELL

Harold Christensen, 27 years old, who lives at 3749 Sheffield avenue, is entirely too conscientious. He is an ex-soldier and claims that injuries received in the army by the explosion of a gasoline stove and the effects of influenza have incapacitated him to the extent that he cannot render 100 per cent service to an employer.

This being the case, Harold has written letters to 400 newspapers asking that they print the following:

"After being discharged from the United States army, in which I enlisted (August, 1917) I have not been able to work as sickened (while in service) has left me in a very nervous condition. I also lost my business and would like to start up again. Any one wishing to help kindly send a check or a money order to Christy, 3749 Sheffield avenue, Chicago, Ill."

The letter which accompanied this appeal said, "as a favor I am asking you to print the enclosed article that it might help me to carry out my wish and start in business. I am a young man who has tried to work since getting out of the army last May, but cannot stand the strain."

It seems that Harold's business is cutting off pork chops and steaks in a meat market.

At his home last night, Harold seemed to be comfortably situated. He was well clothed and fed and his home was well furnished. He weighs about 190 pounds and looks able to move a few pianos.

"I don't really think the public owes me anything, but if they want to buy a butcher shop I'll take it," he said.

Yale Professor's Essay Wins $1,000 Prize Here

Laborers may be better paid than college professors—but it isn't on record that they write learned essays analyzing the problems of the professors. On the other hand, Prof. Edgar S. Furness of the Yale faculty has won $1,000 with his essay on "The Position of the Laborer in a System of Nationalism."

The sum is the first of three prizes offered by Hart, Schaffner & Marx for the best studies on economic subjects. Prof. J. Lawrence Laughlin, chairman of the award committee, made the announcement yesterday.

The second prize of $500 was won by T. Bruce Robb of the University of Oklahoma, whose subject was "The Guarantee of Bank Deposits."

The other prize of $300, for undergraduates only, was taken by Earl Bryan Schuylert of Harvard with a study on "The American Street Railway Problem."

D. C. WILLIAMS MAY SUCCEED J. F. SMETANKA

Said to Have Backing of Roger Sullivan.

"Who'll succeed Julius F. Smetanka as collector of internal revenue?" Democrats were asking the question of each other last night.

There were many guesses. All the followers of the emblem with the elongated auriferous appendages, from Michael Zimmer to that epitome of sartorial splendor, James Hamilton Lewis, were named. But from Jim McInerney, sage of the north side, whose memory goes back to the days when there were more but some of the could end on the police force, came words of an oracle.

Here's His Guess.

"Ye all do be after knowin' me friend Roger, the O'Sullivan. And ye all know, too, that he wanted a man for postmaster, which same was pushed down the dumb waiter o' the congressional halls be' th' forces of the pink whiskered Solomon called Ham. And ye believe know that the same went to Washington with Roger a spell ago to see about bringing the convention of the party of freedom, liberty, near beer, and Woodrow to Chicago."

Others Indorse Guess.

Which was Mr. McInerney's way of expressing the opinion of several of the Democratic dogs who would not commit themselves that Dixon C. Williams might be Mr. Smetanka's successor.

Optometrists' Society
Convenes Here Today

Between 400 and 500 members of the Illinois State Society of Optometrists are expected to attend the twelfth annual convention at the Hotel Sherman today and tomorrow. The principal business will be the revision of the constitution of the society to conform with the constitution of the national society.

OUTSIDE HANDS TANGLE LABOR AND EMPLOYERS

The principal trouble with the industrial situation, said John M. Glenn, secretary of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, last night, is outside interference. He was speaking at the southwest forum at the University of Chicago settlement, Forty-seventh street and Ashland avenue.

"It would be a good thing if the politicians could find out that the so-called labor vote is no more or less important than the so-called business men's vote. Neither is tangible, and neither amounts to very much."

"Organized labor has more votes than industrial organizations or groups of business men, but no leader or set of leaders can deliver the business man's vote."

"There is no conflict between the men who operate the plants and the men and women who work in them that cannot be adjusted if outsiders will mind their own business and if public officials will perform the duties for which they were elected and stop attempting to manipulate situations. The average workman wants to be allowed to go to the shop where he is employed in peace and return in peace, and the average plant owner is satisfied if he is allowed to conduct his plant along economical lines and the rules of humanity and justice."

Never Rains but It Pours;
Raincoat Prices to Jump

The price of all waterproof clothing for fall will be from 10 to 15 per cent higher, it was announced yesterday by N. Lincoln Greene, manager of the clothing division of the United States Rubber company, who is in charge of a meeting of branch managers at the Auditorium hotel.

"The rise is due to a like increase in the cost of material and labor," he said. "The styles in raincoats for men will be a trifle fuller than this winter's, and with or without a belt, as preferred."

By Mae Tinee.
It wasn't too much Johnson for the audience, judging from their laughter and applause. They could have enjoyed considerably more Johnson, I'm thinking.

Quite a snappy little comedy drama is this photoplay, frankly sporting the world old theme of a dominating mother-in-law and a young husband trying to escape from her toils, find himself enmeshed in the tangled web of his manufacture.

I think this production will remind you of the "Skinner" pictures. Like in the latter, Mr. Washburn is a young suburban husband. The mother-in-law angle, however, is a new one; and Miss Farrington as that collectively much maligned human relation individually proves a good illustration of one reason why men leave home.

Miss Lola Wilson hasn't much chance to do anything but stand around with her eyes and mouth open. This she accomplishes quite as effectively as any one else could.

As to Mr. Washburn:
He is plumper than of yore, but has the same raven locks and dimple in his chin. He's grown wiser with the months and refrains from his formerly annoying habit of chewing his lips. No one knows better than Mr. Washburn the art of impersonating a lovable and persecuted male. He keeps his feminine admirers with him from start to finish.

Being, as you know, much too considerate to tell you a great deal about the plot, but let me say that I really think you'll enjoy "Too Much Johnson." It's a cinch you will if there's ever been a Ma Dalton in your home!

Mine occurred on a street car. I was returning home and was fortunate enough to secure a seat. I had only been on the car a short time when an elderly woman entered and I arose and offered her my place, when to my great astonishment she said: "I am just as young as you are and am able to stand."

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Frozen Pudding.

The title "Half a Cup of Sugar This Week for the Cook" was recently stretched across a whole page of a Sunday newspaper. A cook cannot ordinarily do much with half a cup of sugar, so recipes were given for molasses cookies, corn sirup cup cakes, maple nut tapioca, honey sweets, etc., all rather expensive.

Today we must not only find a substitute for sugar in our cooking but we have need to find the least expensive, rather than to use maple sugar at an extraordinary and even unobtainable price, honey at a high but more reasonable price, everything considered, etc. Ice creams in most public places now are high in cost, therefore may seem more of a temptation.

At a comparatively small expense we may make enough frozen pudding for six people as follows:

Thicken one pint of milk with one tablespoon of flour and one-half teaspoon of salt, and cook with it a fourth cup of sorghum and one-fourth cup of sugar. Even less sugar and more sorghum might be used with good results. The pudding may be all the sweeter if the one-fourth cup of sorghum is used. It may be cooked with the milk, but they may be added last with one-fourth of hickory or other nuts and the flavoring. When the milk has thickened, add to it the beaten yolks of two eggs and cook for a minute or two take from stove and cool. The nuts may be added when it is cooling, and a nice washed fig cut fine will not lessen the sweetness, and will improve the quality.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Dolly, standing at the window, saw her father coming along all covered with snow. "O, mother," she cried, "look, here comes daddy a la mode!" C. E.

Mary was on the church Christmas program for a recitation. She was to hold an envelope containing a penny in her hand and tell what the money was going to do. She got started all right: "I got an envelope in my hand." Then she held up the envelope and continued: "There's a penny in it. O!" she suddenly exclaimed, "there's no penny in there. I forgot to put the penny in!" Then the little miss stopped and fished around in her pocket until she could find the penny and so the amount of trying on the part of her teacher could induce Mary to proceed until that penny was in the envelope. The audience roared and the incident was the hit of the evening. W. C. W.

Robert had been angry at James for several days and I was surprised to hear him call over to James and invite him to come and ride on his new sled. Later I questioned him as to his forgiveness of James and Robert explained: "Well, Bill told me Jim was going to have a party next week and I didn't want to lose out." E.

LIVESTOCK CRATES

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

One of the best means of insuring against losses in transporting animals is to have them in good, strong crates. Poor crating often results in broken legs or in the loss of valuable animals, especially among hogs and calves.

Every farmer who is a breeder of pure bred hogs should be supplied with strong shipping crates. Simple, practical crates can be easily made at a small cost from scrap lumber. There is a crate recommended, now in general use among many hog raisers, with the slats nailed on the outside. The slats are just as strong and safe on the inside, and with the same amount of lumber the animal is allowed two inches more space.

This crate also differs from the ordinary crate in the respect that the front end is closed with a board standing endwise on the inside instead of with slats nailed on crosswise. The end may be opened readily so the hog can walk out freely.

For a hog weighing 275 pounds the crate should be about 34 inches wide, 56 inches long, and 32 inches high. Make the floor of the crate solid, laying the boards crosswise.

It is convenient to make the sides first and build the ends, top, and bottom around them. Use boards one inch thick and nail long enough to allow for a one-fourth inch clinch crosswise of the grain of the wood. The ends should be made so they can be removed easily because a hog does not like to walk backward. They usually have to be forced to back out of a crate, while if the nails in the end boards are not clinched the front end can be quickly removed and a great deal of trouble avoided.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

No Meaning at All.

"Dear Miss Blake: What is the meaning of being married on Saturday? Also the meaning of a marriage in December?" E.

"And Saturday no luck at all" is the end of the popular verse on marriage days, but it is after all only a silly old superstition, and don't let it change your plans or affect your life in any way, because hundreds and hundreds of happy married couples have disproved the theory. "Married in days of December's cheer, love's star shines brighter from year to year."

Sale at Women's Exchange.

The Woman's exchange will hold a marked down sale all day tomorrow at the residence of Mrs. E. I. Cudahy, 1204 Astor street.

YOU CAN BEAT THE "PROFITEER"

by cutting out the expensive foods (so lacking in real nutriment) and eating the simple, natural, inexpensive foods that contain the largest amount of digestible nutriment. Shredded Wheat contains more real nutriment than meat or eggs, is more easily digested than potatoes or other starchy foods. Two of these little loaves of baked whole wheat with hot milk (or hot water and butter) make a nourishing, satisfying meal at a cost of a few cents.

NEW COURT SYSTEM DRAFTED FOR CITY, STATE

Centralization of Bench Is Proposed by Experts.

Chicago's proposed metropolitan court system has been mapped out by the Illinois directors of the American judicial society after five years of study and research. Their plan will go into effect at the constitutional convention on August 1, following its submission to the Illinois bar association.

In addition to the metropolitan court system which will join the Municipal court with the county judiciary, the plan has drawn up changes for the plan now in operation in counties outside of Cook.

Outline of New System.
It is proposed that the administrative and judicial functions of the Metropolitan District court of Chicago be centralized in a chief justice and the judicial functions of the five divisions, criminal, civil jury, civil nonjury, probate, divorce, juvenile and domestic relations. For the Illinois judicial system the plan contemplates the following:

A circuit court in six or more divisions, one of which will be the Metropolitan District of Chicago, with special jurisdiction.

A county court with one branch in each county; judges of special sessions to become associate county judges.

It is proposed that the downstate courts also have a special judicial council composed of the chief justice, two judges of the Court of Appeals, the chief justice of the Circuit court, the presiding justice of the County court.

Chicago's Needs.
Chicago, with its population of nearly 3,000,000, is held to have special needs because of the complexity of its present judicial court system.

Chicago has at present a number of courts, bearing peculiar and arbitrary names to each other, says the executive report.

There is never in any large city more than one trial court. Chicago could ever consciously create a jumble of courts as has grown in Cook county in an effort to meet its needs under an inflexible constitution.

There can never be any considerable improvement in the administration of justice in Chicago until the need for a single, consolidated, responsible court is recognized. No other plan has gone beyond mere procedural changes has been advanced to meet this need.

It may be that the new constitution will consolidate Cook county and city of Chicago, providing a new administrative district. It created a metropolitan district in such a manner as Chicago will naturally adopt some district. If this is not done, the metropolitan district can be used to confer its benefits upon such suburbs of the city as may be conveniently administered from a common center.

The city as it now stands requires that duty judges for trial work. A metropolitan district would require four trial judges, leaving nine of the present total force of seventy-three for appellate work.

Detail New State Plan.
The state situation the report says is that the conditions of administration are much different throughout the state. The subjects sought are identical with those in the city. Therefore the same subjects are to be applied, but with a different organization.

"ALIMONY QUEEN" SOON TO MARRY A BRITISH ACE

CAPT. EDWARD M. ROBERTS.

New York, Jan. 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Lyman Kendall, who on being divorced last year received alimony of $4,000,000 and who has been called "the alimony queen," has announced she will wed Capt. Edward Matthew Roberts of the British Royal Flying Corps next Wednesday. She was formerly Nellie Ballentine, daughter of an Idaho governor.

Mr. and Mrs. Kendall were divorced last April without a breath of scandal with an alimony grant exceeding any ever recorded in this country.

Capt. Roberts is from Duluth, Minn. In 1914 he answered Canada's call for volunteers and went overseas with the famous 10th battalion, reaching the front early in 1915. He was one of the twelve to return.

His skills mechanics soon led him to aviation. One of the first British aces, Capt. Roberts brought down eleven German planes, won the cross de guerre with palm and three stars, was wounded four times in midair, and was invalided home in November, 1917.

Lieut. Roberts was on the lecture platform in 1918, appearing in most of the principal cities of the United States. He lectured at Orchestra hall in Chicago in March of that year.

'LABORERS' SOLD LIQUOR, PROVE TO BE DETECTIVES

Into the aridity of Sam Swanson's exultation at 901 Mackinac avenue ventured last night two laboring men bearing in their hands full dinner pails and about their necks red handkerchiefs.

"Little of the top, Sam," said the first laboring man.

"Little of the top," said the second. Swanson gave them to taste from a bottle off his hip.

"An I'd like to take a little bottle home," said the first laboring man.

"Yes, a little bottle home," said the second.

TELLS WHY AND WHEREFORE OF POSEN JUSTICE

"Guarding Autoists from Danger"—Ex-Cop.

B. Hoffman, ex-motor cycle policeman in the village of Posen, Ill., now employed in the real estate office of Police Magistrate Ladislas Hayman of that village, was peevish yesterday.

He had perused a story in THE TRIBUNE which told of the arrest of his employer on charges of conspiracy, growing out of numerous arrests of automobilists unlucky enough to drive by the magistrate's office.

Magistrate Hayman, it is said, once had a dog killed by a stray motorist, and it still rankles.

"Protecting Autoists."
B. Hoffman was peevish about his boss. He was peevish because he, too, had been mentioned in the story, and quite prominently in connection with another warrant which was to be served. Hoffman, it is said, has been arresting many motorists for failing to stop their machines at the crossing.

After re-reading the story, he dropped a nickel in the telephone and called THE TRIBUNE.

"The reason we are enforcing the law at the railroad crossing is on account of accidents such as that at Homewood," he said. "We have the full support of the county superintendent of highways. He has investigated us. He commended our work."

"Are you an officer?" he was asked. "No, I'm not," he said. "I'm an ex-motorcycle policeman of the village of Posen. You printed this morning that I was only 18."

"Didn't you tell a TRIBUNE reporter you were 38?"

"Yes, I did, but when it was printed it hurt my prospects. It's nobody's business how old I am. And, say, regarding those stop signs at the crossing, they were put up by the commissioner of highways and the Chicago Motor club. Here's what the motor club sign says: 'Extra Hazardous Crossing. Stop! Danger!'"

Admits Being Arrested Once.
"Was that extra hazardous" warning put there on account of the activities of Magistrate Hayman and yourself?"

"No, that didn't have anything to do with it."

"Are you ever arrested?" he was asked.

"Yes, in September, and so was Mr. Hayman. I work for him in his real estate office."

Accused on Three Charges.
"What were the charges?"

"Why the charges against me were speeding, driving without lights, and impersonating an officer. The charges against Mr. Hayman were assault with intent to kill and robbery."

WHERE IS DADDY? Three Children of Man Slain in Garage Row.

TEDDY SOMMERFELD.

JEAN SOMMERFELD.

It was a strange Sunday evening for Rastie and Jean Sommerfeld, 14 and 5 years old. They didn't go to the movies with daddy. In fact, they had not seen daddy since he killed himself by Saturday and went to his garage, 2800 West Division street. Teddy and Robert, 20 months and 5 weeks, slept in their cradles much the same as any other night, unconcerned. None of them knew that their daddy, Edward Sommerfeld, had been killed Saturday night by Leo Weinberg, owner of another garage, in an argument over some damage done to the Sommerfeld garage door. The Sommerfeld home is at 1700 North Western avenue.

TRAPS THIEVES IN STORE THAT PUT POLICE AID ASIDE

Trio Planned Theft of 15 Jugs of Liquor.

Some time ago Capt. Morgan Collins proffered to Delaney & Murphy, wholesale liquor dealers at 221 West Randolph street, the assistance of his police in guarding the building from liquor thieves.

The firm replied: "We have a watchman."

Last night Capt. Collins and a small crowd of policemen and detectives rushed into the place and captured three men who had prepared to haul away one barrel and fifteen five gallon jugs of whiskey. A fourth man sitting in an auto truck outside was also arrested.

The men are Henry Helian, 3945 Palmer avenue; John Brandt, his brother-in-law, 2212 North Karlov avenue, employee of Sargent & Co., occupying the floor underneath the liquor dealers; Herman Ewald, 1438 North Avera avenue, and Gustave Singer, 2332 North Karlov avenue.

They admitted they intended to steal all the liquor they could. But they said it was their first offense. However, the police are investigating other recent thefts of liquor in the loop. There's been more than $100,000 worth of whiskey carted away within the last few weeks.

U. S. HAS MORAL MANDATE IN NEAR EAST—DR. BLISS

"Politics or no politics, America has a moral mandate in the near east that is inescapable," declared Dr. Howard S. Bliss, president of the Syrian Protestant college, Beirut, Syria, in an address before the Sunday Evening club in Orchestra hall last night.

"God has laid a moral mandate on the American people that they are in duty bound to fulfill," said Dr. Bliss, who is himself a native of Syria, but whose parents were Americans. He was educated at Amherst college and Yale university.

"This mandate is not dependent upon the action of the United States senate or congress, but is something which may not be ignored so long as America bears the name of a Christian nation."

ALL APLANE! THIRSTY MAY SOON FLY FROM U. S. TO CUBA IN HOUR

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 11.—[Special.]—All aboard for Havana—the oasis! Out of dry America to wet Cuba in one hour.

That's the airplane time from Key West to Havana. The specialists will start soon. Pilots were at the state department yesterday getting their permits.

This is the toughest season in Florida, when the men of wealth and thirst flock to the resorts. It is the open season for those who would like to and can afford to make a quick run to Havana for a few drinks. The long line at the state department waiting to get passports last week shows the number eager to patronize the air route.

Eventually there may be a glass bridge from Key West to Cuba, built over coral-reefs, from the bottles dropped overboard from the returning airships.

NEW MAIL PLANE HERE TODAY FOR NEW YORK FLIGHT

The first of the new Martin mail planes to be used in the Chicago-New York aerial mail service, which will be started on Thursday, will arrive at the new checkerboard field at the speed way today. Otto Praeger, second assistant postmaster general in charge of aerial mail, also will arrive in Chicago today and probably will remain to witness the departure of the first mail plane for New York.

The Martin planes, accepted by the government after severe tests, have a carrying capacity of 1,500 pounds of mail, instead of only 300, as in the case of the De Havillands. They also carry five hours' fuel, instead of three, and have a speed of 115 miles an hour. Only one stop will be made in the Chicago-New York flight. This will be at Cleveland.

Paul S. Oakes, who will bring the first Martin plane here today, will pilot the craft as far as Cleveland and it will be driven from there to New York without a stop by Harry Page.

The plane is equipped with five mail compartments, any or all of which can be emptied by the pilot in flight, so that mail may be delivered without stopping.

BOMB REPORTEE IN POWERS' WARD LAID TO POLITICS

U. S. Starts Quiz as Two Leaders Are Blown Up.

Two bomb explosions which in the last week have endangered the lives of two Italian Democratic leaders in the Nineteenth ward were attributed last night by Ald. Johnny Powers to recent strife between Democrats and Republicans.

Early on Sunday morning the residence of Representative Charles Cola at 817 Forquer street was partially wrecked. The Black Hand was blamed. A week ago Louis Leonetti of 613 South Morgan street, a friend of Cola, was blown out of his bed by a bomb. This incident was classed as "mysterious."

Investigation last night revealed that there have been recent "bureaus" between Italian factions of both parties.

Politics, Says Powers.
"It seems to me to be a case of politics," said Ald. Powers. "Italian Republicans and Democrats have not been on good terms and it may be that the bomb play has been injected for revenge."

Representative Cola denied he was a target in the bomb explosion. He also denied knowledge of any political strife. Leonetti, a municipal court bailiff, admitted political friendship with Cola, but denied any partisan feuds.

The house in which Cola lives is owned by Antonio Carluccio. He declared no threatening letters had been received by him or his stepson, Peter Fish. Other tenants made similar statements.

Assistant District Attorney John Boddie announced he will make an investigation today of the Forquer street bombing. He is working on the theory that witnesses in a recent Black Hand case were the intended targets.

The Cobblers' Bombs.
Peter Pavlos, a cobbler at 4417 Broadway, is a bit of a student of history, he said, and is versed in the methods used by ancient and modern nations to eliminate competitors when business rivalry became too sharp.

T. D. Thompson, proprietor of a rival cobbling establishment at 4604 Broadway, avers Pavlos put his knowledge to use, with the result that numerous cobblers have been driven out of business by the order and cleanliness of the Thompson establishment. So, on complaint of Thompson, the Town Hall police yesterday arrested Pavlos and sundry bombs from time to time upset the order and cleanliness of the Thompson establishment. So, on complaint of Thompson, the Town Hall police yesterday arrested Pavlos and sundry bombs from time to time upset the order and cleanliness of the Thompson establishment.

BASSETT TO SEE DANIELS ON NAVY SUMMER SCHOOL

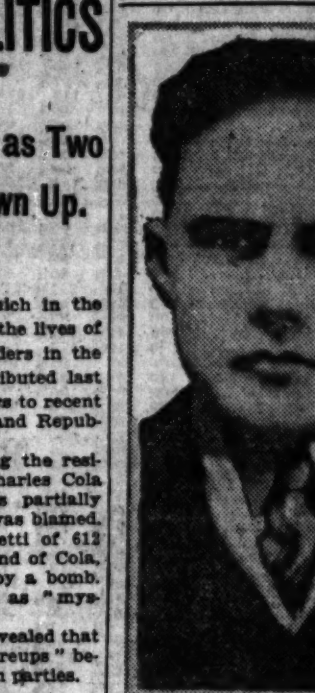

Rear Admiral Bassett, commandant at Great Lakes, is going to Washington this week to give Secretary Daniels an estimate of what it will cost to maintain a Great Lakes summer school for boys—and quite a number of the sailors are going to see this week. The order has come, to cut the ship's companies to 1,250 men, and the station will have but 5,000 bluejackets hereafter. The plan for the school—to train high school boys in the way of the navy, without placing them under any obligation to enlist—was suggested by H. H. Merrick and was endorsed recently by Mr. Daniels.

Quartet of Hoosier Girls Strikes Out for Movies

Wabash, Ind., last Thursday found four new stars for the movies when Elizabeth Webb, Agnes Wigner, Della Henry, and Helen Richwine, 15 year old high school girls, packed their suitcases and disappeared. The detective bureau here has been asked to look for them.

Other missing girls and boys sought by the police are:
Bonnie Slicka, 15 years old, Middleton, O.
Ella Naterak, 17 years old, 2184 West Eighteenth place.
Anna Cochran, 15 years old, 1916 West Twenty-first street.
Pearl Rogers, 16 years old, 1836 North Kosar street.
Thelma Kria, 17 years old, 2000 South State street.

BOY SKATER FALLS, HIDES INJURIES, PAYS WITH LIFE

STANLEY NEGOSKI.

Stanley Negoski, 13 years old, of 845 North Lincoln street, fell on the ice and injured his back while skating in Humboldt park on New Year's day. He became ill, but was afraid to tell his parents of the accident. About a week ago he became so ill he was taken to St. Elizabeth's hospital. Then the doctors and Stanley's folks learned, through a boy friend, of the accident. Stanley died of his injuries yesterday.

JEANNE DE KAY IN NEW YORK? CLEWS POINT THAT WAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—[Special.]—Is Jeanne Anna De Kay, missing daughter of John W. De Kay, man of mystery, in New York?

Evidence suggesting that she now is or has been in the city within twenty-four hours was learned today.

Publication of her photograph in the papers here on Wednesday morning brought an inquiry from B. Stempler, a furrier of 2172 Seventh avenue, near One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street. He said Miss De Kay's photograph resembles that of a young woman who came into his store and tried to sell him a marmot coat, slightly worn.

She explained she needed the money for railroad fare to Charleston, S. C. She said she formerly had resided there, but her talk was not southern. It was rather eastern. She appeared to be about 20 years old, and Stempler decided not to buy the coat, since he thought she was a minor.

A short time before Stempler saw the young woman he believes was Miss De Kay, Miss Dadies Salter, the lost heiress' intimate on her recent voyage to the United States, hurried away from the Hotel Theresa, four blocks from his store, with a woman known address. Miss Salter had registered as of Bucharest, Roumania.

CHIANTI BATTLE PUTS 2 IN CELL, 3 IN HOSPITAL

Chianti flowed freely at the home of Mrs. Josephine Valletto, 1921 South street, last night. Two of the guests, John Manni and Frank Petullo of 821 Garibaldi place, became boisterous and were ordered to leave.

When they refused Mrs. Valletto called on her star boarder, Pasquale Geralli, large of biceps, who threw them out. They dared Geralli to come out. He ignored their taunts. Joseph Muscato, another boarder, ran outside. He was stabbed three times in the stomach by Manni.

Mrs. Valletto ran to his assistance. She was slashed in the face and Petullo fired a shot at her with a revolver, but missed. Then came Geralli. Manni rushed at him with a knife. Geralli's arm shot out and Manni was stretched out. Petullo came at him with the gun. He struck Petullo so hard on the chin he dislocated his right shoulder.

When Manni and Petullo revived they sneaked soberly home. There the police found them.

FAKE ART EXPOSE NEW THRILL IN DE KAY MYSTERY

Van Dyke of Jeanne's
Chum Called Bogus.

Miss Dadies Salter, the mysterious Roumanian acquaintance of the missing Jeanne De Kay, furnished a new sensation in the disappearance puzzle yesterday, when it was learned that the "priceless painting by Van Dyke," which Miss Salter brought across the Atlantic and attempted to sell to agents of the Morgan and other New York art collections, was nothing more than a counterfeit.

Charles De Kay of 413 West Twenty-third street, New York, a cousin of the missing heiress and the former art editor of the New York Times, to whom Miss Salter carried the picture, is authority for the statement that it is spurious. He said he so advised Miss Salter and her mother and would have nothing to do with their attempts to dispose of it.

Girl Drops From Sight.
Miss Salter's mother, who appeared to be quite ill, called for France on Saturday, but there is no record of her daughter, having accompanied her. Miss Salter appears now to have dropped from sight as completely as Miss De Kay.

She had warned Miss De Kay time and again never to say anything about the painting and wrote her a letter after her arrival at Hull House impressing the need for secrecy. This caused Miss Jane Adams to question Miss Salter about the picture during her two days' visit in Chicago. Miss Salter told her the only reason the Morgans refused to buy it was because the particular religious theme did not appeal to them.

De Kay Called to Parley.
Those working on the case, unable to find a trace of Miss Salter in New York, turned their attention to Providence, R. I. Thomas Z. Lee of that city, legal representative of Jeanne's father, John Wesley De Kay, explained the son, John De Kay's sudden departure from Chicago by saying he had summoned the young man for a conference. He would not say why he himself had not come to Chicago, the natural point from which to prosecute the search. He declared he never had heard of Miss Salter until he read of her connection with the case and was mystified as to how the elder De Kay, in Switzerland, knew of her presence on the coast with his son and daughter.

Old Bank Case Bobs Up.
Attorney Lee was asked why he instead of the girl's brother, Charles, or her uncle, Henry E. De Kay of Ashburne, Va., had been given full charge of the search, especially when he admitted he never had seen John W. De Kay, his son, or his daughter.

He explained this by saying he had been retained some time ago by De Kay to represent him in the case. Charles, or her uncle, Henry E. De Kay of Ashburne, Va., had been given full charge of the search, especially when he admitted he never had seen John W. De Kay, his son, or his daughter.

He explained this by saying he had been retained some time ago by De Kay to represent him in the case. Charles, or her uncle, Henry E. De Kay of Ashburne, Va., had been given full charge of the search, especially when he admitted he never had seen John W. De Kay, his son, or his daughter.

Attorney Lee said he had been able to obtain a description of Jeanne from Metcalf, now employed by his law firm as a bookkeeper. He said he was not believe Jeanne was dead, although he could give no reason other than that she was in good health and "too young to have amnesia."

A Publicity Stunt?
The fact that a reporter for the Evening Post, which has been obtaining possession of important revelations in the case, engaged a room at Hull House and spent the night there was responsible for a rumor that Miss De Kay might turn up suddenly and write a history of her experiences, as did Louise Brown, the "mystery girl" of county hospital fame.

Before leaving for Des Moines to lecture before the students of Drake university, Miss Jane Adams of Hull House made public for the first time the letter she received from Miss De Kay's father asking her to help his daughter find employment. It threw no additional light on the case.

Sift Telegram Trivia.
Miss Adams and Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton held a conference yesterday, at which they attempted to explain chronological discrepancies in the telegrams which they received from the younger De Kay while he was on his way to Chicago to join in the search for his sister.

He was notified by telegram of his sister's disappearance at 9:30 o'clock on Wednesday morning, Dec. 31. Miss De Kay had left Hull house the night before. On New Year's, Thursday, Miss Adams was informed by De Kay by long distance telephone from New York that he was coming to Chicago at once. On Friday a telegram signed "John De Kay," was received saying he was in Chicago the next day. At 11 o'clock Saturday morning another telegram, dated in New York three hours previously, arrived saying he would not be here until Monday.

One hour after this message was received John De Kay, accompanied by Miss Salter, appeared at Hull house. It developed later that both had engaged rooms that morning at the Board of Trade hotel, 217 South La Salle street. R. B. Gray, manager, said they merely had stopped for about an hour to wash up after their train trip.

It was learned during the day many Chicagoans lost money through investing in De Kay's Mexican National Packing company. One of those, Mrs. M. H. Birrell, of 2209 Prairie avenue, made a trip to London to see De Kay about her losses.

Second Floor, North.

January Sales continue with their impressive demonstrations of the buying opportunities always offered here during the first month of each new year. Incoming shipments add verve to these sales now at their height, and bring new merchandise which gives to this whole great store that interesting and refreshing atmosphere of a new season.

Entirely New Styles Just Arrived for the January House Dress Sale

Interest never lags a moment at this sale.

Each day women may come here and find some different, attractive house dress just making its first appearance. Or more of a style that has been instantly successful.

Now at $4.95 and $7.95.

Are house dresses in the two styles having a first presentation.

At $4.95, the house dress sketched at the left. It is of a soft cotton fabric in blue, pink, rose and green. Straight in line, piped in white, smartly pocketed, it is in every detail most attractive.

At $7.95, the house dress sketched at the right. Plaid gingham—the plaids in such unusual combinations as wine color, pale green and gold, for example—fashions it. This house dress buttons all the way down the back.

And always in the sale at $3.95 to $8.95 are smart-looking, practical house dresses.

Third Floor, North.

White Goods

In the January Sale are qualities preferred for the modes of the new season, favorably priced.

White organdies of the beautifully sheer crisp quality so much liked for frocks and blouses are 45 inches wide, $1.10 yard.

Nainsooks of soft sheer quality and light weight for the finer undermuslins and children's dresses are 36 inches wide, 50c yard.

Second Floor, North.

Women's Suits Exceedingly Smart Southern Modes, Suggestive of Springtime

Neither the extravagances of the newly created in fashion nor its usualities are admitted to the assortments here. Those modes, and those only, which interpret the new in distinctive manner and so whose vogue is assured, are presented.

So women who choose now and here have delightful surety of the new at its best, and a continued period of service for that new.

Tailored-English Diagonals, Clay Color or Heather Blue

Just the sound of the fabric and color calls up visions of a clean-cut, trig-looking suit—the sort one knows will mean distinction for the wearer. The fashion details at belt and pocket (to be noted in the sketch) are new and different.

The belt is very narrow and the pockets are cleverly stitched. $110.

Suits for Town, Travel, Sports Wear, $55 to $150

And suits that combine in themselves the features that make them suitable for all three purposes. First in this group are checked velour suits, tailored, yet not in the least severe. $75.

Suits of tricotine have grosgrain ribbon bindings. Suits of Poirer twill and pin seal have new collar lines. In one, for example, there is a fastening just at the collar. Then the coat swings jauntily away.

Fourth Floor, North.

These Lovely Silken Frocks Mean Charm in a Southern Wardrobe

Not only charm, but service of the happiest sort. For these are the frocks one wears on club verandas afternoons, with as good taste as afield in the bright and sunny morning hours.

Of Charmeuse and Fan-ta-si, $85

Is the frock sketched. It's lowered waistline is marked by pockets. Buttons small and set closely together make a smart line.

At $97.50 there are Fan-ta-si frocks in blended tones of purple and old blue that introduce a scarf collar gayly tasseled.

Taffeta Frocks Never Were in Greater Favor, New Fashions Here to Be Had at $40 to $175

At $40, for example, are taffeta frocks with ruffled pockets. At $50, taffeta frocks panniered just at one side. At $60, a frock with a smartly frilled apron tunic.

At $65, a surprised frock with fine accordion pleatings in the skirt. At $75, another frock with a deep border made of box-pleated ruchings.

At $85 still another taffeta frock with a high bodice girdle whose line is brought out by a fold of vivid silk.

Fourth Floor, North.

Silks That Express The New Spirit of Spring

Reechoing the freedom from restraint and expressing an exuberant youthfulness that is ever the spirit of spring, come these wondrous new weaves, surely destined for a continued success this new season of 1920.

Printed foulards strew the oddest of colorings on medium and dark grounds. Sometimes the pattern takes the form of a deep-toned flower, scarcely distinguishable in its subdued colorings. Again a very vivid dash of color is printed on a somber background. Many others as lovely also in these foulards at $3.50 yard.

Satin charmeuse, too, comes in for high favor in the new season's modes. This in the most sought new colorings, 40 inches wide, is $4 yard. Black dress satins of a heavy quality of all-silk to be depended upon for wearing service, are 36 inches wide, priced $4 and $5 yard.

Special Prominence Is Given Southern Sports Silks in Extensive Assortments

A featuring that includes new designs and colorings in Fan-ta-si, Kumsi-Kumsa, Dew-Kist and new fiber silk fabrics in so evident favor for frocks and suits for southern wear. Many original designs and weaves in these silks are being shown for this season only here. Plain weaves are priced at $7.50 yard. Jacquard and plaid patternings are priced at $9.50 yard.

Second Floor, North.

All-Wool Blankets

Are $13.50 Pair

AND this is a special pricing on such soft, warm, all-wool blankets.

They're in ample double-bed size and one may choose them in block plaid patterns of pink, blue, tan, and gray, or solid white or gray with colored borders, all carefully over-stitched. $13.50 pair.

Cotton Blankets, $7.50 Each

There's all the warmth of a double blanket in these woven-in-one cotton plaid blankets. Many prefer them made in this manner. They come in fancy plaid patterns of blue, pink, gray, and tan, or solid French gray and brown, with jacquard borders. Size 72 x 84 inches, $7.50 each.

Seventh Floor, South.

Crepe de Chine, $6.95 Hand-made, $3.95 Tub Satin, $6.95 American-made, $2.50

January Sale of Undermuslins Every Article New, Fine, Specially Priced

And the best that could be procured to sell at each respective January Sale pricing.

The foregoing statements, characterizing this sale, have back of them merchandise of the high standard of quality which is always associated with this store. Each different division of this sale contributes the following evidence of exceptional value-giving:

Crepe de Chine Night-Dresses, Sleeveless, $6.95

Tub Satin Envelope Chemises, $6.95

Philippine Hand-made Lingerie, $3.95

American-made Undermuslins, $2.50

Sketched above are four garments. Envelope chemises and night-dresses in the American-made and Philippine groups may be had to match. The envelope chemise of tub satin (not sketched) is exquisite with fine lace and Georgette crepe. $6.95.

Tub Satin Petticoats, Unusually Lovely, $6.95

Note the sketch at the right center. The entire flounce is made of folds of crepe and filmy lace, held here and there with tiny tinted silken rosebuds. Just one of many similarly excellent values in tub satin petticoats, featured at pricings from $5.95 to $16.50.

Winter Coats at Lowered Prices

WEEKS of winter weather ahead. And perhaps the coat of a former season, which one anticipated wearing this winter through, now begins to look dull and drab. Here's an opportunity to replace it.

Women's and Misses' Coats, now $35, $45, $65

These coats are of velours cloths, of tinsel-tones, of suedes, fine warm coats all in this season's favored fashions and colors.

In the misses' coat groups at each price there are fur-trimmed coats. The higher-priced coats have fur collars.

The finer coats, mostly one-of-a-style, are also reduced.

Coats will not be accepted for credit, refund or exchange.

Millinery Modes for the South

Fanciful straws and brilliant silks, a debonair grace of line and decorative touches placed with true artistry. Such are the new hats the new season brings.

For the morning hours afield large hats flower-brimmed or small hats elaborate with embroideries. For travel, turbans rather Oriental, and exquisite black hats for the frocks of more formal occasions.

In the French Room, $16.50 to $35.

Fifth Floor, South.

$15 $20 $15 $18.50

1,000 Georgette Crepe Blouses Instantly Interesting at $15, $18.50, $20

Seldom indeed in a season is such a selling event possible.

Such blouses, considered from every standpoint—material-quality, fashioning, style-distinctiveness—even at very much higher prices would prove remarkable.

At These Pricings the Values Are Exceptional, for These Are the High-colored Georgette Crepe Blouses in Over-Blouse and Russian Lines

The colorings in themselves are exquisite—flesh, jade, old blue, maize, Callot blue, sunset, fawn, taupe, flame, Volga green. Often two colors are combined, such as navy blue and cardinal, and with telling effect.

The fashion details are charming—worsted embroideries, wooden beads, gold and silver thread embroideries, grosgrain ribbons, metallic motifs. Exquisite taste and striking originality are shown in their application.

Four blouses of these groups are pictured. There is practically every size in each style, but the nature of the values counsels early choice.

New Styles Are Featured in the January Sale of Boys' Tub Suits, $2.90

And so wholesomely boyish-looking these are, these new styles that have just come to take part in the January sale featureings—the very sort of little suits mothers delight in for little lads of 2 1/2 to 8 years.

Made with exacting care in the proportioning and finish, of heavy cotton fabrics

In More Than a Score of New Styles, Two of Which Are Sketched

At the right one notes a two-piece suit of plain color chambray with buttons studing the box-pleated waist and a silk cord tie and pockets to recommend it for particular favor. The suit at the left has colored trousers with novel tops that button on white blouses trimmed in pearl buttons. These are among several styles, all featured at $2.90 each.

JANUARY reductions continue among assortments of boys' clothing, including suits, overcoats and mackinaws of splendid quality, suitable for present wear.
